

Keep Books Everywhere! Easy access to reading materials is one of the simplest ways to increase the likelihood of reading in any given situation. Don't you love tucking a magazine into your beach bag? Do the same thing for your child! Keeping favorite, easy-to-read books and magazines in your car is a sure-fired way to get your child reading and talking about books in fun new ways.

Learn to Love your Library - If you haven't been to the local, public library recently... go! You will truly be surprised at how much your child will LOVE going to the library! It is the perfect (free!) way to beat the summer heat while enjoying reading experiences with your child. Most libraries have great summer programs for children! Many include things like puppet shows, story-hours, crafts, guest speakers, and technology classes.

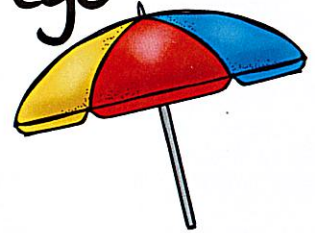

Assignment—Attached you will see the Summer Reading BINGO assignment for first grade. Each child should complete at least one row on the BINGO board (horizontal, vertical or diagonally) . These books can be books that the child can read on their own or books you or someone reads to them. Bring in the completed BINGO board (at least one row) on the first day of school for a special treat.

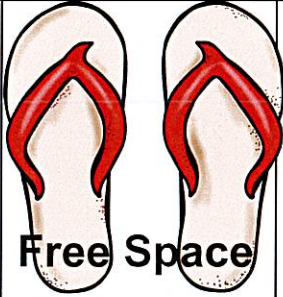

Have fun reading! See you in August!

Summer Reading Bingo

Can you get a bingo?

Read on a Beach Towel	Read a Story that the Author is a Girl	Read on Tuesday	Read a Book that has Animals in it	Read Under an Umbrella on a Sunny Day
Read on Friday	Read to a Stuff Animal	Read in a Lawn Chair	Read in the Shade	Read to a Neighbor
Read at Night Outside with a Flashlight	Read a Poem	 Free Space	Read a Fiction Book	Read on Wednesday
Read with Sunglasses on	Read on Thursday	Read a Story that the Author is a Boy	Read on Monday	Read with a Hat on
Read with no Shoes on	Read a Nonfiction Book	Read to an Adult	Read under a tree	Read Outside